

The next iteration of the MOC

Lars Kellogg-Stedman, Red Hat

Abstract

After four years of successfully offering services on the first version of the MOC, we are developing a new release of the OpenStack environment in order to offer a more robust and scalable platform with lower management overhead.

Speaker Bio

Lars has been working with Red Hat's OpenStack products for over five years, and joined the Red Hat/BU Collaboration project earlier this year.